

Exercises

1. Write a single line comment which says, comments can make code readable
2. Create a variable.js file and declare variables and assign string, boolean, undefined and null data types
3. Declare four variables without assigning values
4. Declare four variables with assigning values
5. Declare variables to store your first name, last name, marital status, country and age in multiple lines
6. Declare variables to store your first name, last name, marital status, country and age in a single line
7. Declare two variables myAge and yourAge and assign them initial values and log to the browser console.

I am 25 years old.

You are 30 years old.